European Review of Social Psychology

Published under the auspices of the European Association of Social Psychology

Impact Factor 1.611*

EDITORS

Wolfgang Stroebe, Utrecht University, The Netherlands

Miles Hewstone, Oxford University, UK

An e-first journal which aims to further the international exchange of ideas by providing an outlet for substantial accounts of theoretical and empirical work, whose origins may be, but need not be, European.

The emphasis of these contributions is on substantial individual programmes of research and on critical assessment of major areas of research, as well as on topics and initiatives of contemporary interest and originality.

Self and Identity

The journal of the International Society for Self and Identity

EDITOR

Mark Alicke, Ohio University, USA

Brings together work on self and identity undertaken by researchers across different subdisciplines within psychology such as social, personality, clinical, developmental and cognitive, as well as across other social and behavioral disciplines. Special emphasis is placed on theories and research that open new terrain for future investigation, and work that offers integration at the level of basic processes.

Identity: An International Journal of Theory and Research

Sponsored by the Society for Research on Identity Formation

EDITOR

Alan S. Waterman, The College of New Jersey, USA

International and multidisciplinary in scope, this cutting-edge journal provides a forum for identity theorists and researchers around the globe to share their ideas on the problems and prospects of human self-definition. The unifying thread is "identity" in its various manifestations - people in many parts of the world are struggling with aspects of their identities, and many of these problems transcend national, political, and cultural boundaries, taking on global proportions.

Manuscript Submission

Submit manuscripts to editor-in-chief, Alan Waterman, by email at identity@tcnj.edu. Prior to submission, read the full Instructions for Authors at the journal's website.

The Journal of Social Psychology

EXECUTIVE EDITORS

Christopher L. Aberson, Humboldt State University, USA

Randall A. Gordon, University of Minnesota, USA

Bernard Guerin, University of South Australia

Robert F. Scherer, Cleveland State University, USA

Since John Dewey and Carl Murchison founded it in 1929, The Journal of Social Psychology has published original empirical research in all areas of basic and applied social psychology. Most articles report laboratory or field research in core areas of social and organizational psychology including the self, attribution theory, attitudes, social influence, consumer behavior, decision making, groups and teams, stereotypes and discrimination, interpersonal attraction, prosocial behavior, aggression, organizational behavior, leadership, and cross-cultural studies. Academic experts review all articles to ensure that they meet high standards.

Recent article topics:

- Student prejudice against gay male and lesbian lecturers
- Intelligence and family marital structure
- Reactions to same- and mixed-gender intimacy in others
- Japanese and American words for emotions
- Men's self-esteem and their attitudes toward men and women.
